*Elementary Title I Schools Only: Pre-School Transition

Describe plans for assisting preschool children in transition from early childhood programs to local elementary school programs as applicable.

*Grades 6-12 Only Sec. 1003.413 (2)(b) F.S

For schools with grades 6-12, how does the school ensure that every teacher contributes to the reading improvement of every student?

Teachers who work in grades 6 -12 incorporate reading strategies into the content areas of science, social studies, and math using text books and leveled non-fiction books to make cross-curricular connections. These materials support the use of "before, during, and after" reading strategies, which result in a deeper understanding of the content. Assigned independent reading time provides students with the opportunity to practice these reading strategies. Teachers also utilize effective strategies for fiction and non-fiction texts including the seven key strategies identified by Harvey and Goudvis in Strategies That Work - making connections, questioning, visualizing, inferring/predicting, determining importance in text, and synthesizing. Furthermore, Teach like a Champion techniques are incorporated into staff development to improve teacher's instructional practices. The FAIR and FCAT data is also used to identify the needs of the students in the area of reading comprehension. Reading strategies are embedded in teachers' lesson plans.

*High Schools Only

Note: Required for High School-Sec. 1003.413(2)(g), (2)(j) F.S.

How does the school incorporate applied and integrated courses to help students see the relationships between subjects and relevance to their future?

Pre-Trial Detention teachers utilize real world examples that students can relate to in explaining concepts. For example, a lesson designed for math, science, history, and career maybe on technology (comparison of what technology was, then and now, where it will be 5 years from now). Lesson plans are also developed to incorporate real world activities (how to complete a job application, write a resume, or letter with grammatical accuracy, or a math lesson on how to determine free-throw percentages). Every class/ curriculum will address critical thinking skills which are required in everyday life if, and when students are released from detention.

How does the school incorporate students' academic and career planning, as well as promote student course selections, so that students' course of study is personally meaningful?

Students receive differentiated instruction in the core subjects as well as other pertinent information to help prepare them for the workforce. Students will be enrolled in courses that meet high school graduation requirements and include Next Generation Sunshine State Standards and Common Core Standards. Teachers will review each student's Academic Improvement plan (AIP) and/or Individual Education Plan (IEP) (which addresses academic goals as well as vocational goals) and utilize them as working documents to make the classes more relevant to the students and to meet the needs of the students.

Postsecondary Transition

Note: Required for High School- Sec. 1008.37(4), F.S.

Describe strategies for improving student readiness for the public postsecondary level based on annual analysis of the High School Feedback Report.

Pre-Trial Detention is focused on understanding, defining and clarifying post-secondary/post detention dreams, and visions. Teachers are encouraged to have discussions on what courses or plan of study students are interested in once they serve their time. Students are also encouraged to speak with a guidance counselor and transition specialist regarding their post secondary plans, employment and Independent living/Community Participation. Alternative forms of educational programming, such as structured opportunities to prepare for general equivalency diplomas (GED), recover high school credit, or work toward college requirements, are all viable paths for students. Students are encouraged take the ACT or SAT. Additional strategies for improving post secondary readiness include scheduling of students in appropriate courses based on specific needs (i.e. scheduling remedial courses for FCAT and other subjects for learning gains). Moreover, students are in classes with lower student-to- teacher ratios than what they are accustomed to in public school, which provides for more individualized instruction opportunities.
